

IMPROVING SOIL BY COVER CROPS

They Add Humus, Accumulate Nitrogen, Prevent Erosion and Loss of Plant Food.

RYE LARGELY USED IN FALL

Problem Areas Largely With Locality, but it is Best to Get Good Growth Before Freezing Weather—Methods Also Vary.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Clover, vetch and other legumes serve the triple purpose of adding humus to the soil, accumulating nitrogen and preventing soil erosion. With some tender berry and fruit crops they also serve to protect the roots from severe winter weather. Outside of the nitrogen-forming plants, rye is largely used as a cover crop sown in the fall and plowed under in the spring to add organic matter to the soil. The cover-crop problem varies largely with locality, but for over-winter purposes there is one rule which is universal, and that is to get the crop in the ground in time to secure good growth before frost.

A Practice of Long Standing.

The use of clover or some other legume to enrich the soil is generally considered a cardinal agricultural practice in the humid sections of the United States. It is one of the oldest quarters of a century the monumental discovery that legumes store up nitrogen from the air. The belief that clover was a valuable nitrogenous fertilizer was first on experience, and later experience was substantiated by the discovery of the relation between the legumes and the nodules bacteria.

Other legumes, as the cow pea, the Japan clover and bur clover in the South and crimson clover on the Atlantic coast, have come into use in the Department of Agriculture. They are in good favor, too, with the poultry raisers on account of their table qualities.

All the American breeds lay brown-shelled eggs. They all have yellow skins, and shanks free from feathers, which are desirable qualities for table fowl in this country. In size they are intermediate between the smaller egg breeds such as the Leghorns and the larger meat breeds, such as the Brahms. In temperament they are also intermediate, being more docile than the egg breeds, but more so than the meat breeds. They are fairly good foragers. The American-class birds mature earlier than the meat breeds, but not so quickly as the egg breeds. They are setters and make good mothers.

SAVE BEST OF GARDEN SEED

Cloth Bags Are Best Containers for Large Seeds—Correct Labeling Is Important.

Seeds which have been grown and carefully saved should be well labeled and stored or all the previous labor goes for nothing, say experts of the United States Department of Agriculture. Cloth bags are the best containers for large seeds, such as peas, beans and corn. They should be labeled with the name of the variety, the date of sowing, the date of harvest, and the place where grown. For the cloth bags a slip of paper bearing all the information should be inserted with the seed. It is very convenient also to have a tag on the outside of the bag, but on account of the moisture the tag will be omitted, because of the liability of loss of the outside tag.

Correct labeling is of paramount importance. Every envelope or container should show the kind and variety of seed, the date, including month and year when harvested, and the place where grown. For the cloth bags a slip of paper bearing all the information should be inserted with the seed. It is very convenient also to have a tag on the outside of the bag, but on account of the moisture the tag will be omitted, because of the liability of loss of the outside tag.

When to Sow Cover Crop. The time of planting and the best crop to use is a matter which local conditions must dictate. Along the north Atlantic coast it is considered best to get these crops in from the first to the middle of August, while in the extreme South the planting may be deferred to early October. In the extreme North hairy vetch is favored as a legume, cover or green manure crop, but rye is also largely planted. From middle Pennsylvania to the north Alabama line crimson clover gives good results. In the extreme South bur clover, vetch and crimson clover are used, as well as velvet beans and cow peas.

Wherever clean cultivation is practiced the soil is likely to be in shape for broadcasting the seed. If convenient, it can be harrowed in. In orchards a light harrowing or disking may be employed if the ground is free from soil. Care must, of course, be taken not to injure the roots. The crop is usually plowed under in the spring, but this is not always done with orchards. Data collected by the United States Department of Agriculture shows a general benefit from this form of agriculture.

Cover crops are of especial value to small gardeners and truckers, who often find it both difficult and expensive to obtain stable manure. They add the humus which is so necessary to maintain a good physical condition of the soil. Wherever there is a vacant place in the garden, the use of rye, vetch, clover, etc., may be sown and raked in. If a suitable rotation of crops is followed, all parts of the garden may be covered with a green manure crop once every two or three years.

QUARANTINE ALL NEWCOMERS

Safest Plan to Separate Strange Stock for Week or Two to Determine Condition.

It is safest to quarantine the new-comer. Careful breeders never place strange stock in their pens until they have been kept separate for a week or two, so that they may know if they are in a healthy condition.

Give Fowls a Dust Bath. If the fowls lack a dust bath they are likely to suffer from lice. Give them a dust bath once a week. Ashes make a most excellent dust. Empty the ashes where the fowls may take a dust bath.

Cull During Summer and Fall. The hens should be culled during the summer and early fall months, beginning to cull the poor producers just as soon as they stop laying.

Water for Chickens. Fresh water is good for plenty of fresh drinking water. Keep the water dishes clean. Provide plenty of ventilation, too, in the hen houses.

Push Rosters for Market. Push the young roosters for market—at least the ones that are not promising enough to keep for breeders. Don't keep market fowls too long.

Young pullets should not be kept long after they should begin to lay if they do not fulfill expectations.

AMERICAN CLASS OF FOWLS IS POPULAR

Good Egg Producers and Meat Well Suited for Table.

In Size They Are Intermediate Between Small and Large Breeds and Are Fairly Good Foragers—They Make Good Mothers.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

In the American class of poultry are found the Plymouth Rock, Wyandotte, Java, Dominique, Rhode Island Red and Buckeyes.

The fowls of these breeds are commonly called general-purpose fowls, because they are not only good egg producers, but their carcasses are also well suited for the table. They are therefore the best breeds for the general farmer who is going in for sports as never before. Golf clubs near Paris are the center of great social activity. La Bourne, which is near Versailles, and St. Cloud, so near Paris, are daily rendezvous for the smart set. Chantilly and Fontainebleau, both of which have interesting golf courses, are favorite resorts for week-ends, and thus the sport has come to be an essential part of the Frenchman's wardrobe. Consequently designers have given it much attention. Dress-makers who had the forethought to anticipate this demand are now reaping a harvest.

Madeleine et Madeleine are going especially well with their models.

"Dans le Train" and "Sport." Both of these are eminently suitable for the season which their names imply. Both are developed in very smart looking tissues from Rodier, who has the best of the most beautiful of the latest patterns and yet conforming to the latest refinement. They are most characteristic of this great French manufacturer.

Vivid Colorings in Sport Coats.

The features of these new coats which impress one most forcibly are the colors and bold designs of the fabrics. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm, yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool blues of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black, which at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect.

elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which later in the season will be replaced by a black and white striped fringe. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm, yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool blues of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black, which at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect.

Motor Coat of Novelty Fabric in Vivid Green Wool With Stripes and Tiny Pin Dots in Black.

ing effect. The clever manner in which dressmakers and tailors are handling these bold-patterned fabrics plays no small part in the successful use of coats made from them.

In outline the coats show little that is new. They are all very slender, usually so for this type of wrap. There are many capes but even these are of the straight variety and not an all. The Russian blouse style is in evidence, although it is usually a long and straight coat, although simple enough for the daytime, are sufficiently dressy for informal evening wear.

Any number of capes of Rodier's are made on the order of the English traveling cloak have been imported to this country. An unusually smart one by Premet is of gray, black and white, with a wide band of black and bright red as an unusual combination. One might judge from reading about it that the cloth has an extremely bizarre appearance, but it is not so. The black and red are merely brightened here and there with touches of bright red, which give it a well-thought-out way to make a fabric very much out of the ordinary.

The cape is straight with silk armholes and a long, straight collar which closes to one side and fastens with a large composition button. The handles show life, and the white face of the plaid is selected.

In most instances sleeves are long and flowing. Bell sleeves may be in vogue, but cuffs, perhaps double cuffs of this sort.

Madeline et Madeleine cannot resist introducing their very low waisted coats. The "Danse le Train" inverted box plaits are the method by which this pronounced low waistline is defined.

Collars are high, although the shawl collar also is used. The high collars all spring from a low base. There is the neckline is considerably cut out so that the collar starts far out on the shoulders and comes up in a muffling sort of way about the ears.

With materials showing so much action in the way of design little trimming is needed, but we still see

GREEDY RATS ARE NUISANCE

Rats Can Be Exterminated by Cleaning Up Breeding Places and Poisoning Them.

Rats are a great nuisance and like to stop where the meals are satisfactory. Clean up the breeding places and try to poison them. Place the poison where it will be safe from children and farm pets. Use skill in placing steel traps and covering them.

Good to Control Lice. Dust is the best for controlling lice. Poultry seem to enjoy them, and if well doctored with kerosene oil or tobacco dust are doubly effective, and tobacco dust in nests will help.

Make Friends With Cows. A dairyman need not worry if his horse who doesn't love and make friends with his cows. His cream checks tell him it pays.

Should Have a Silo. Every dairyman should have a silo.

Sport Coat Has Call in France

Paris Dressmakers Are Busy on Garments Which Are Done in Bold Designs.

BLACK AND RED COMBINATION

Bright and Dark Shades Are Among the Favorite—Bomber Linings Are Used by Way of Contrast.

All of the Paris dressmakers are now very busy on automobile and sport coats, writes a fashion correspondent. The Parisienne is going in for sports as never before. Golf clubs near Paris are the center of great social activity. La Bourne, which is near Versailles, and St. Cloud, so near Paris, are daily rendezvous for the smart set. Chantilly and Fontainebleau, both of which have interesting golf courses, are favorite resorts for week-ends, and thus the sport has come to be an essential part of the Frenchman's wardrobe. Consequently designers have given it much attention. Dress-makers who had the forethought to anticipate this demand are now reaping a harvest.

elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which later in the season will be replaced by a black and white striped fringe. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm, yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool blues of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black, which at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect.

elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which later in the season will be replaced by a black and white striped fringe. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm, yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool blues of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black, which at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect.

elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which later in the season will be replaced by a black and white striped fringe. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm, yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool blues of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black, which at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect.

elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which later in the season will be replaced by a black and white striped fringe. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm, yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool blues of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black, which at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect.

elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which later in the season will be replaced by a black and white striped fringe. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm, yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool blues of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black, which at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect.

elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which later in the season will be replaced by a black and white striped fringe. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm, yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool blues of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black, which at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect.

elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which later in the season will be replaced by a black and white striped fringe. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm, yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool blues of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black, which at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect.

elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which later in the season will be replaced by a black and white striped fringe. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm, yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool blues of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black, which at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect.

elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which later in the season will be replaced by a black and white striped fringe. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm, yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool blues of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black, which at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect.

elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which later in the season will be replaced by a black and white striped fringe. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm, yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool blues of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black, which at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect.

elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which later in the season will be replaced by a black and white striped fringe. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm, yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool blues of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black, which at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect.

elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which later in the season will be replaced by a black and white striped fringe. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm, yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool blues of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black, which at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect.

elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which later in the season will be replaced by a black and white striped fringe. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm, yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool blues of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black, which at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect.

elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which later in the season will be replaced by a black and white striped fringe. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm, yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool blues of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black, which at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect.

elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which later in the season will be replaced by a black and white striped fringe. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm, yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool blues of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black, which at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect.

elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which later in the season will be replaced by a black and white striped fringe. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm, yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool blues of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black, which at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect.

elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which later in the season will be replaced by a black and white striped fringe. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm, yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool blues of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black, which at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect.

elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which later in the season will be replaced by a black and white striped fringe. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm, yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool blues of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black, which at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect.

elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which later in the season will be replaced by a black and white striped fringe. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are developed in a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 4

FROM PHILIPPI TO ATHENS.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 16: 1-17. GOLDEN TEXT—"The angel of the Lord stood before Paul and said, 'Fear not, for I am with thee, and no man shall hurt thee. I have commanded my angels to guard thee.'" REFERENCE MATERIAL—1 and 2 Thessalonians.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God Takes Care of Paul and Silas.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Power of the Holy Spirit in the Lives of the People and Adult Topic—Practicing with Perseverance.

1. Paul and Silas in Jail (vv. 16-20). The occasion (vv. 16-20). When the occasion was about to kill their supernatural power was gone; therefore, the source of revenue was dried up. This was a desperate situation, but they had Paul and Silas arrested before the magistrates on a false charge. They charged them with changing their customs, but nothing had been said about customs. They acted the hypocrite, for it was not unusual for them to be in jail. They were interfered with. Those men ought to have rejoiced that such a blessing had come to this poor girl. They cared more for their gain than for their welfare. This is true of the ungodly crowd of the world in ungodly quarters in our temperance districts and the neglect of precautions for the safety of employees in shops and stores. Without any chance of being hurt, they were stripped and beaten by the angry mob and then remanded to jail, and made fast in stocks in the inner prison.

2. Their behavior in jail (vv. 20-25). They were praying and singing laments to God. It seems quite natural that they should pray under such conditions, but to sing hymns under such circumstances is a triumph. They have not come into possession of the peace of God through Christ. Even with their backs lacerated and snarled and for fast in stocks comparing the most painful attitude in the dungeon darkness of the inner prison, usually black, made in the heart of extreme uncertainty, their hearts went up to God in gratitude.

3. The earthquake (vv. 25-26). The Lord worked deliverance by sending a great earthquake which opened the prison doors and removed the chains from all hands.

II. The Conversion of the Jailor (vv. 27-34). The jailor's sympathy did not go out very far for the prisoners, for after they were made secure he went to sleep. The earthquake suddenly aroused him. He was about to kill himself, whereupon Paul assured him that the prisoners were all safe. This was true for him. What he heard of their preaching and now what he had experienced caused him to have a humble inquiry into the salvation. Paul clearly pointed out the way to be saved—"Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ." The word "heavenly" was used to emphasize the fact that the jailor was saved. The proof that the jailor was saved is threefold:

1. Transformation from brutality to gentleness. He who a little while ago could with impunity lay on the cruel hands is now disposed to wash and clothe the prisoners.

2. Confession of Christ in baptism. Those who have really been convicted of sin and have experienced the saving grace of God, delight to confess their faith in Him under whatever circumstances they may be placed.

3. His household baptized. When a man's family are willing to follow him, he may be sure that the work is genuine.

III. The Magistrate Humbled (vv. 35-40). The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates. They gave leave for the prisoners to go, but now they refuse to do, claiming that their rights as Roman citizens have been violated, and demand a public vindication. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with. He was a Roman citizen, and he was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with.

IV. Paul and Silas Released (vv. 41-44). The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates. They gave leave for the prisoners to go, but now they refuse to do, claiming that their rights as Roman citizens have been violated, and demand a public vindication. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with. He was a Roman citizen, and he was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with.

V. Paul and Silas Released (vv. 41-44). The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates. They gave leave for the prisoners to go, but now they refuse to do, claiming that their rights as Roman citizens have been violated, and demand a public vindication. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with. He was a Roman citizen, and he was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with.

VI. Paul and Silas Released (vv. 41-44). The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates. They gave leave for the prisoners to go, but now they refuse to do, claiming that their rights as Roman citizens have been violated, and demand a public vindication. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with. He was a Roman citizen, and he was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with.

VII. Paul and Silas Released (vv. 41-44). The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates. They gave leave for the prisoners to go, but now they refuse to do, claiming that their rights as Roman citizens have been violated, and demand a public vindication. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with. He was a Roman citizen, and he was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with.

VIII. Paul and Silas Released (vv. 41-44). The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates. They gave leave for the prisoners to go, but now they refuse to do, claiming that their rights as Roman citizens have been violated, and demand a public vindication. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with. He was a Roman citizen, and he was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with.

IX. Paul and Silas Released (vv. 41-44). The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates. They gave leave for the prisoners to go, but now they refuse to do, claiming that their rights as Roman citizens have been violated, and demand a public vindication. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with. He was a Roman citizen, and he was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with.

X. Paul and Silas Released (vv. 41-44). The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates. They gave leave for the prisoners to go, but now they refuse to do, claiming that their rights as Roman citizens have been violated, and demand a public vindication. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with. He was a Roman citizen, and he was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with.

XI. Paul and Silas Released (vv. 41-44). The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates. They gave leave for the prisoners to go, but now they refuse to do, claiming that their rights as Roman citizens have been violated, and demand a public vindication. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with. He was a Roman citizen, and he was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with.

XII. Paul and Silas Released (vv. 41-44). The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates. They gave leave for the prisoners to go, but now they refuse to do, claiming that their rights as Roman citizens have been violated, and demand a public vindication. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with. He was a Roman citizen, and he was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with.

XIII. Paul and Silas Released (vv. 41-44). The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates. They gave leave for the prisoners to go, but now they refuse to do, claiming that their rights as Roman citizens have been violated, and demand a public vindication. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with. He was a Roman citizen, and he was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with.

XIV. Paul and Silas Released (vv. 41-44). The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates. They gave leave for the prisoners to go, but now they refuse to do, claiming that their rights as Roman citizens have been violated, and demand a public vindication. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with. He was a Roman citizen, and he was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with.

XV. Paul and Silas Released (vv. 41-44). The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates. They gave leave for the prisoners to go, but now they refuse to do, claiming that their rights as Roman citizens have been violated, and demand a public vindication. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with. He was a Roman citizen, and he was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with.

XVI. Paul and Silas Released (vv. 41-44). The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates. They gave leave for the prisoners to go, but now they refuse to do, claiming that their rights as Roman citizens have been violated, and demand a public vindication. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with. He was a Roman citizen, and he was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with.

XVII. Paul and Silas Released (vv. 41-44). The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates. They gave leave for the prisoners to go, but now they refuse to do, claiming that their rights as Roman citizens have been violated, and demand a public vindication. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with. He was a Roman citizen, and he was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with.

XVIII. Paul and Silas Released (vv. 41-44). The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates. They gave leave for the prisoners to go, but now they refuse to do, claiming that their rights as Roman citizens have been violated, and demand a public vindication. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with. He was a Roman citizen, and he was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with.

XIX. Paul and Silas Released (vv. 41-44). The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates. They gave leave for the prisoners to go, but now they refuse to do, claiming that their rights as Roman citizens have been violated, and demand a public vindication. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with. He was a Roman citizen, and he was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with.

XX. Paul and Silas Released (vv. 41-44). The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates. They gave leave for the prisoners to go, but now they refuse to do, claiming that their rights as Roman citizens have been violated, and demand a public vindication. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with. He was a Roman citizen, and he was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but his Roman citizenship was not to be trifled with.